

Mr Mitchell Lee Stephens

August 18, 1961 - September 17, 2021

Mitchell Lee Stephens was born August 18, 1961, to the late Clarence E . Stephens, Sr . and Joyce Elaine Stephens . He departed this life on September 17, 2021 .

Mitchell gave his life to Christ when he found his church family in Lexington, Kentucky, and joined Consolidated Baptist Church under the leadership of The Reverend Richard Gaines, who would become a great Spiritual advisor to him, both inside and outside the church .

Mitchell knew at an early age what his career choice would be and his parents provided him the opportunities to attend schools that would prepare him for his future career goals . Mitchell was a very intelligent, passionate man whose intelligence allowed him to travel all over the world, including Japan and Italy . Mitchell started his career as an entry-level engineer and worked tirelessly to climb the corporate ladder . He grabbed the attention of major companies such as Kenner, Webasto Roofing Systems, Johnson Controls, Toyota, Enova-Premier and more . He was later recruited for a position as one of the top engineers for Tesla Electric Motors in Palo Alto, California .

Mitchell held several prominent corporate positions beginning in Rochester Hills, Michigan with Webasto Roofing Systems, to his latest position with Katayama American Company, Inc . (KACI) in Shelbyville, Kentucky .

After a successful career as an engineer, Mitchell decided to go back to school to learn more of the business aspect of the engineering field where he had respectfully earned his bachelor's degree . He used his skills and knowledge to teach and help those who followed in his footsteps .

Mitchell not only had a passion for his career, but he had a genuine love for teaching and helping young men and women! When he wasn't working, he coached and trained young men in various football and basketball leagues; from the YMCA, to the Lexington Police League (PAL), and other organizations throughout the community . He truly loved giving back in all areas.

Mitchell was a man that not only loved his family, but he lived his profession and those who he shared it with . Along the way Mitchell met many colleagues that would later become very dear, life- long friends . Most of the people that knew Mitchell, knew him on a professional level first, but because of the man he was, he became an influential part of their lives, either on a personal or a professional level .

Mitchell loved and worked relentlessly for his family until the day the Lord called him home . All Mitchell ever wanted was for his family to know his love and his reason for it .

To know Mitchell was to respect him; he commanded respect by simply walking into a room . However, he remained a humble and faithful servant of the Lord, always giving God the thanks and praises for all He had done in his life!

Mitchell was preceded in death by his father, Clarence E . Stephens, Sr; and his older brother, Clarence E . Stephens, Jr . (Kim); and a stepson, Skyler TréKel Richardson .

Mitchell is survived by his loving and devoted wife whom he shared 21 wonderful years with, Mrs . Temekis Higgins-Stephens . He also leaves to mourn his passing, his mother, Joyce E . Stephens; a son, McKye Stephens; three daughters, Takisha Stephens, Brittani Stephens and Brandi Stephens; a grandson, Zaire; two granddaughters, Saniya and Zaria; three sisters; Darlene and Anita (Gene) and Stephanie; and a host of nieces, nephews and cousins, including specials cousins who were more like siblings, Robert Cook and Belinda Lenoir (Darrell) Bell .

“ *To my brother Mitchell who I love so much. Thanks for always given me advice thanks for always looking out for me and my family. Am so sorry that your time on earth with us was taking so soon. Am just glad I have the great memories of you being a wonderful brother and awesome father. You will truly be missed. You can rest in the arms of the master until we meet again. And to know you left a part of you in each one of us. Missing you dearly but I know your in a much better place. Rest In Peace
Your Sister Darlene* ❤️

“ My Dear Brother I will cherish our last conversation. I'm glad you got the answers you was desperately searching for. I'm grateful you released everything that was holding you bondage and shared every single thing with our Dad before he passed. You realized you was always loved even when you thought you didn't deserve love. You sent Mama Flowers for Mother's Day and made her so Happy. Finally you realized what you meant to us in our lives. Now it's time to rest your work here is done. We all are at perfect peace knowing you are now sleeping for the first time in peace.
