“ Virginia was my housekeeper and friend for over 20 years. She comforted me when my mother died in 1978 and was there for me when my father died in 1991. We laughed together and had wonderful conversations. She gave me one of her ever blooming violets that still blooms today. She and my last husband John were best friends and they are probably laughing in Heaven now. She loved my kitties and had ornaments made with their names that I hang on my tree every Christmas. Virginia was truly a special lady and a blessing to know.
